UM LAW SCHOOL TO OFFER TAX INSTITUTE NOV. 4-5

MISSOULA

The University of Montana's law school has scheduled its 42nd annual tax institute for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 4 and 5, for attorneys, accountants and other professionals interested in tax planning.

The institute, "Tax Planning for the Agricultural Client," will be held at the Village Red Lion Inn in Missoula. Sessions are scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Saturday.

In addition, the State Bar of Montana will sponsor a seminar preceding the institute on tax laws for general practice attorneys on Thursday, Nov. 3, also at the Red Lion.

The institute will have eight sessions and will cover income tax considerations for agricultural taxpayers, like kind property exchanges, estate planning for farmers and ranchers, conservation easements, charitable remainder and annuity trusts, and income and estate tax savings for agribusiness owners. The sessions are designed for insurance professionals, trust officers, financial planners, development officers, attorneys and accountants.

Institute participants can earn continuing education credits. The registration fee, which covers tuition, session materials and lunch Friday, is $200 if paid by Nov. 1 and $225 for later registration. To register or for more information, call the UM Law School at 243-4311.

The seminar preceding the institute will feature charitable tax strategies, qualified retirement
